Ongoing obligations of private funds

There has been considerable change in the business environment for private funds in the Cayman Islands, most notably, the introduction of the Private Funds Act (as revised), which required previously unregulated closed-ended funds to be registered with CIMA as "private funds". This has increased the level of regulatory requirements and volume of ongoing obligations that private funds must adhere to.

The purpose of this Collas Crill explains is to provide those newly registered private funds with a guide on these obligations, to ensure not only that they remain within complete compliance, but can plan accordingly around the specific criteria and deadlines.

A private fund registered with Cayman Islands Monetary Authority (CIMA) under the Private Funds Act (Private Fund), can be structured as an exempted company, limited partnership, limited liability company or unit trust. The applicable ongoing obligations will vary depending on the structure chosen.

The key obligations relating to Private Funds are summarised below.

Registration with CIMA

All Private Funds must be registered with CIMA within 21 days of receiving capital commitments and before accepting any capital contributions.

Registration is through CIMA's REEFS web portal. The registration fee is US$365.85 and the annual CIMA fee is US$4,268.29.

Notifications to CIMA

CIMA is required to be notified within 21 days of any material change to information which was provided in a Private Fund's registration application, registered office changes or annual declaration.

For example: A notice of Director change must be submitted to CIMA within 21 days. Once CIMA is notified, the change is immediately effected. Failure to comply may result in the application of financial penalties. A filing fee will be applied to process the change. If the Private Fund has failed to comply with the deadline, a penalty under the Private Funds Act of approximately CI$20,000/US$24,390 may be applied.

Annual filings and fees

Private Funds are required to file an annual return to CIMA and pay an annual fee on or before 15 January each year.

Failure to comply with the deadline, will result in a penalty equating to 1/12 of the annual fee due being applied each month that the payment remains outstanding. The annual fee is currently US CI$3,500 / US$4,268,29.

Financial statements and Fund Annual Return (FAR)

All Private Funds are required to have their accounts audited annually by a CIMA approved auditor. They are also mandated to submit their audited financial statement to CIMA, along with a Fund Annual Return (FAR), within six (6) months of the end of each financial year. The FAR fee is currently CI$300 / US$366.

A private fund will need to prepare annual accounts in accordance with the International Financial Reporting Standards or generally accepted accounting principles of the United States of America, Japan, Switzerland or a non-high risk jurisdiction and an audited set of accounts must be filed with CIMA within six months of the fund's year end.

Management and corporate governance

Private Funds established as exempted companies are required to have two directors whom must be natural persons. Alternatively, it may have one corporate director, provided such corporate director has a minimum of two directors who are natural persons. Where a Private Fund is established as an exempted limited partnership, its general partner must have two natural persons who as its directors of operators.

The board of directors (or, in the case of an exempted limited partnership, the general partner) has responsibility for monitoring and supervising the Private Fund's activities and affairs. This requires (without limitation), holding meetings at least twice a year, supervising all service providers, monitoring conflicts of interest and ensuring compliance with all applicable regulatory requirements.

Other general requirements

(i) Valuation

A private fund must have appropriate and consistent procedures for the proper valuation of its assets. Valuations must be carried out at least once a year.

Valuations must be carried out by an independent third party, an administrator or the manager or operator of the fund. Where valuations are carried out by the manger or operator of the fund, the valuation function must be independent of the management function or where the function is not independent, potential conflicts of interest must be properly identified, managed, monitored and disclosed to investors.

Under the rule on "Calculation of Net Asset Values – Registered Private Funds", Private Funds must disclose their valuation policy within their constitutional documents, marketing materials or other form of investor communication. CIMA may exempt a Private Fund from this valuations requirement, either absolutely or subject to such conditions as CIMA may determine.

- appoint a custodian to hold the custodial fund assets which custodian must verify that the fund holds title to any other fund assets and maintain a record of those assets; or
- notify CIMA that it is neither practical nor proportionate to appoint a custodian having regard to the nature of the assets which it holds.

Where a private fund notifies CIMA that it is neither practical nor proportionate to appoint a custodian, the Private Fund must appoint an independent third party or the manager or operator of the fund to carry out the title verification function. If this function is carried out by the manager or operator, it must be independent from the portfolio management function or where the function is not independent, potential conflicts of interest must be properly identified, managed, monitored and disclosed to investors.

If the verification of the assets are not performed by a custodian or an independent party, CIMA has the authority to request that the title of assets be verified by an auditor or professionally qualified independent third party.

The appointed custodian must be authorized in an approved jurisdiction to provide custody services and not have a control relationship with the manager or operator of the Private Fund.

(iv) Cash monitoring

Identification of securities

A Private Fund that regularly trades securities or hold them in a consistent basis, must maintain records of the identification codes, such as International Securities Identification Number (ISIN) or a Legal Entity Identifier code (LEI) and make the records available to CIMA upon request. CCCS can assist with the registration of an LEI and in obtaining ISINs from the Cayman Islands Stock Exchange.

The internal procedures and policies should include information addressing how data is obtained, stored, processed, protected, a data retention schedule, how data subjects can access their personal data and how data breaches are handled.

Economic substance

The International Tax Co-operation (Economic Substance) Act (as revised) (ESA) requires that "relevant entities" that carry on "relevant activities" must demonstrate that such entities have 'economic substance' (ES test) in the Cayman Islands for each relevant activity that is being conducted.

Private Funds are caught under the definition of "Investment Fund" which means that they will not be a relevant entity and will not be required to comply with the ES test.

An "Investment Fund" is defined as entities whose principal business is the issuing of investment interests to raise funds or pool investor funds with the aim of enabling a holder of such an investment interest to benefit from the profits or gains from the entity's acquisition, holding, management or disposal of investments (including any entity through which an investment fund directly or indirectly invests or operates), but does not include a person licensed under the Banks and Trust Companies Act (as revised) or the Insurance Act, (as revised), or a person registered under the Building Societies Act (as revised) or the Friendly Societies Act (as revised).

An investment fund is required to notify the TIA of the date of the end of its financial year and to provide any CIMA Registration Numbers. GIIN or FI Number.

De-registration
