November 2015

State Street Corporation (NYSE: STT) has been appointed by Independent Fund Platforms to provide administration and custody services to its funds platform, Independent Platforms. Collas Crill provided legal advice on the structure.

The Independent Offshore Platform (Jersey) ICC, the only independent platform available in Jersey, provides investment managers with a quick, efficient and cost-effective way to launch new funds and is particularly suitable for managers wishing to re-engineer an existing offshore fund or to replicate an onshore strategy offshore using an already established infrastructure.

Mark Rawlins, group partner at Collas Crill, said: "This open platform architecture is ideal for managers wanting a one-stop-shop approach. It provides all the required elements of Jersey infrastructure and caters for the differing facets of the Jersey regulatory landscape, with an established and well connected network of professionals. We look forward to the growth of the platform as incubator funds thrive, managers cross-fertilize at platform events and a real community of interest grows around the structure. Collas Crill is pleased to be working with State Street and Independent Fund Platforms in the ongoing development of the platform."

Hugh Hunter, director of independent Fund Platforms said: "State Street has extensive expertise and in-depth knowledge in asset servicing and will fully support us with hosted operational architecture to provide value-added support and branding autonomy which is scalable and global."
